

Agent usage: executive summary

Prepared for: Finance · Prepared by: CompleteTech (complete.tech · Timothy.Gregg@complete.tech) · Date: 2026-09-09 · Reference: LEDGER-20260909

Headline

Between 2026-01-01 and 2026-09-01, 10 coding agents on 1 host(s) made 13 model calls in 11 sessions, moving 53,810 tokens. At published list prices the same traffic is worth $0.22; prompt caching removed $0.01 (6.2%) from that figure, and 2 flat-rate subscription(s) costing $400.00 over 2 account-months paid for the subscription-billed share. Metered (usage-based) spend was $0.21.

Where the volume is

- aider carries 73.2% of all tokens; gpt-5.5 is the busiest model at 73.2%.
- The busiest working directory, repo, holds 73.2%.
- The busiest month was 2026-04 (39,375 tokens); 2026-09 closed at 425, -1.2% against 2026-08.

Caveats

Models priced at a stated sibling: gemini-2.5-pro (no price for gemini-2.5-pro), kimi-k2.6 (no price for kimi-k2.6), devstral-2 (no price for devstral-2). Excluded sources: Claude desktop app and claude.ai leave no local transcript; Antigravity / Gemini stores conversations as protobuf blobs without token fields. Attribution rules below high confidence: any other call -> other:usage-based (medium). Figures are API-equivalents, not invoices.
